- Access to a range of teaching ideas and resources

This programme is led by Peter Leech, a successful Headteacher, once head-hunted to remove a school from Special Measures. He was Director of the Virtual Education Action Zone and was Senior Adviser for a major English County. He now heads Response Education, with a mission to support school improvement at a cost that every school can afford.

The D 2 C programme has a record of having brought about major improvements to GCSE grades.

Response Education has not worked in your location previously and is offering this highly effective programme for an introductory cost of just £290 for schools in your Authority.
