

---

Education is the process of equipping young people to take responsibility for all aspects of their own life .

---

But ....

Just suppose for a moment that....

- The kids had the tools and knew how to use them
- Staff had a profile of the learning styles of each student
- Staff were given guidelines on how to put the ideas into practice based on curricular examples
- The effectiveness of each activity was evaluated for you
- Sets of activities, resources and guidelines were provided for all staff
- Specific groups of key students were given intensive support in the form of workshops and online follow up
- Students had an on line mentor who supported them in regularly using the techniques
- You could afford all of this

To find out more about this total immersion in the whole brain friendly approach to effective learning in a package individually tailored to your school's context contact Peter at Response Education